

Anellotech CEO David Sudolsky Speaking at Three European Bioeconomy Conferences this Month

Anellotech CEO David Sudolsky will be travelling to Europe this month to attend and speak at three key bioeconomy conferences:

*David Sudolsky, President & CEO
Anellotech, Inc.*

- 15 May, Cologne, Germany: David will be participating in nova-Institut's 12th International Conference on Bio-based Materials in the 'Commercialising Cost-Competitive, Renewable Aromatics for Bio-Based Chemicals and Fuels' session
- 23 May, Lyon, France: At Plant Based Summit, David will be speaking on a CEO panel focused on the future of plant chemistry
- 28 May, Düsseldorf, Germany: David will be participating in bio-based packaging conference bio!PAC, where he will talk about how Anellotech's collaboration with Suntory is making 100% bio-based PET a reality

Anellotech is now planning the construction of its first commercial plant and is engaging in partnership and funding discussions with existing and new strategic partners.

Interested in finding out more? Attending any of these conferences? Get in touch to meet with David at dsudolsky@anellotech.com.